

blomus OUTDOOR – FUOCO Tabletop Gel Firepit

The modern romance of the campfire

Gel fuel in place of wood, mobility in place of a fixed location – the circular FUOCO design gel firepits from blomus are as convenient as that. A real trend in outdoor living. No other campfire burns so easily and cleanly, leaving no residue. And added to that is the great visual enjoyment. Because the fire reveals its magnificent spectacle only in combination with the stainless steel design. And this can happen anywhere you desire outdoors – here today and somewhere else tomorrow. The outer surface of the FUOCO dish shape is in black, frost-proof pottery. The cover is in stainless steel and has an opening at the centre where the fuel gel is added and which provides sufficient space for the flames. The stainless steel surface reflects the firelight many times over and makes FUOCO an unusual experience time and again under the open sky. The long-handled extinguisher which comes with the gel firepit enables the fire to be safely put out again.
